Those who dwell unseen among us
And sow their seeds of fear and hate,
Those who lurk in shadow form
And keep us in a wary state,
How convenient that these things
Still lurk unseen among the throngs.
How lucky that they bear the brunt
Of all our wars and all our wrongs.
Admit we must, with proper shame,
Without them who would take the blame?

Dave Munday

We, the Patrian editors of 1971 are about to depart as graduates, and we sincerely hope that in future years this issue of the Patrian will be cherished moments of happy years at South High, a reminder of favorite classmates and of the wonderful hours spent together.

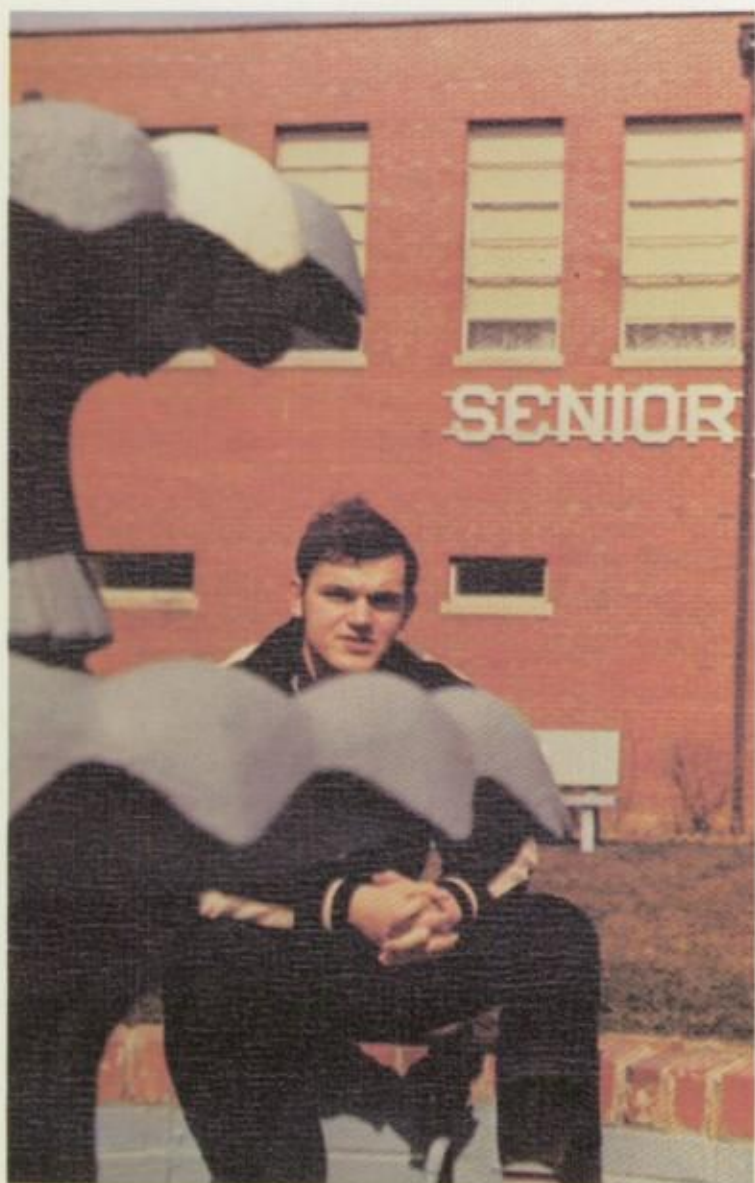

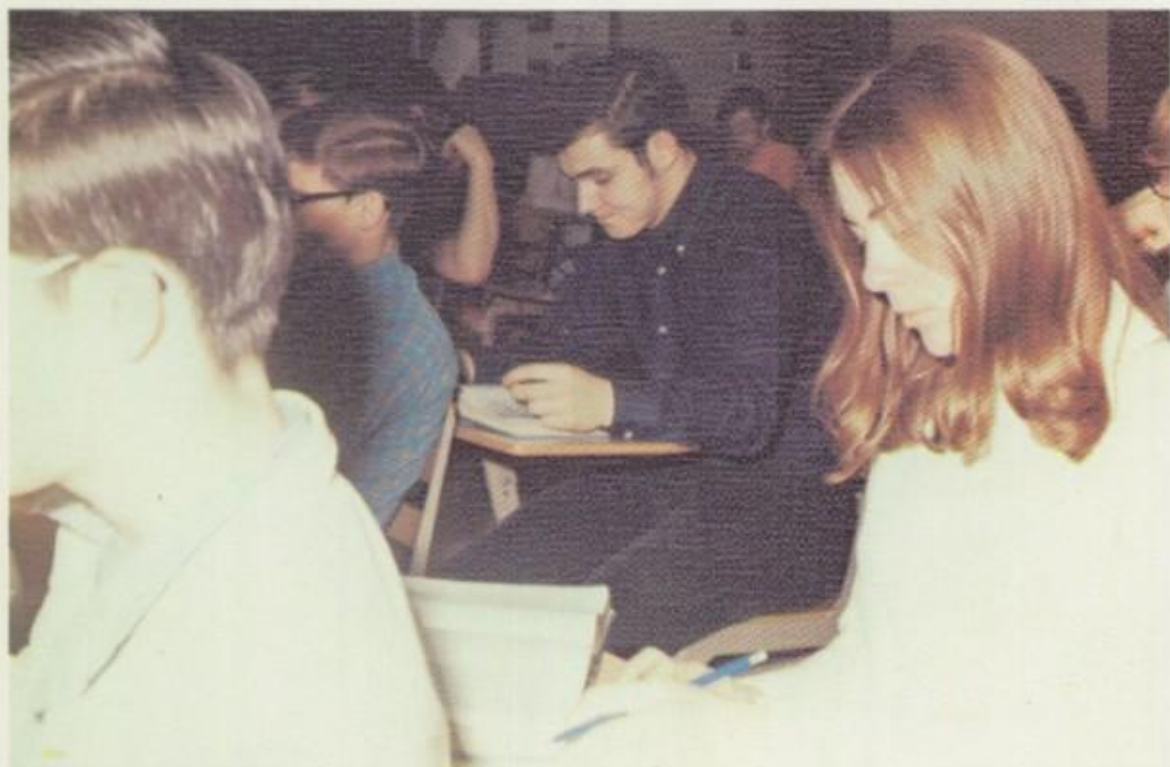

In whatever degree of success or failure we may find ourselves during the years to come, if a glance at these pages will lighten our labors then we deem our yearbook worthwhile. Each school event will be remembered, some were happy occasions, and others sad, but they have made up a part of our school career, a time never to be forgotten.

I do my thing, and you do your thing.
I am not in this world to live up to your expectations
And you are not in this world to live up to mine.
You are you and I am I,
And if by chance we find each other, it's beautiful.

We now leave the Memories of yesterday
To face the Dreams of tomorrow.

Carl Radcliff, president; Beth Stoneking, secretary; Beverly Smith, treasurer; Debbie Lowers, vice-president

Coming sharply and suddenly, the people
Run for shelter
From rain
The people run the same, to shelter
Their lives
From change
Because they fear its touch, they hide
Under umbrellas of yesterday
And wait.
Soon it's gone and the people return, ignoring
The puddles that remain
From the storm.
They all saw it coming
Will see it come again
Without warning, without end.

RECESSION OF THE CLASS

"Pomp and Circumstance" Edward Elgar

Deep within the mind
Evil lurks
Desperate longing
Hurt, hurt, hurt.

Outside the sky is gray
Raindrops fall
Within the heart
Desperation calls.

The heart and mind emotions are born
Love or hate
The soul is torn.

The twisted mind
Prejudice and hate
Keep on growing
Til it's too late

White or Black
It's only skin
To hate and hate
Is a sin.

Love and friendship
I want to say
Is the answer
It's the only way.

Trudy Bush

Mr. Herbert Palmer, Principal.

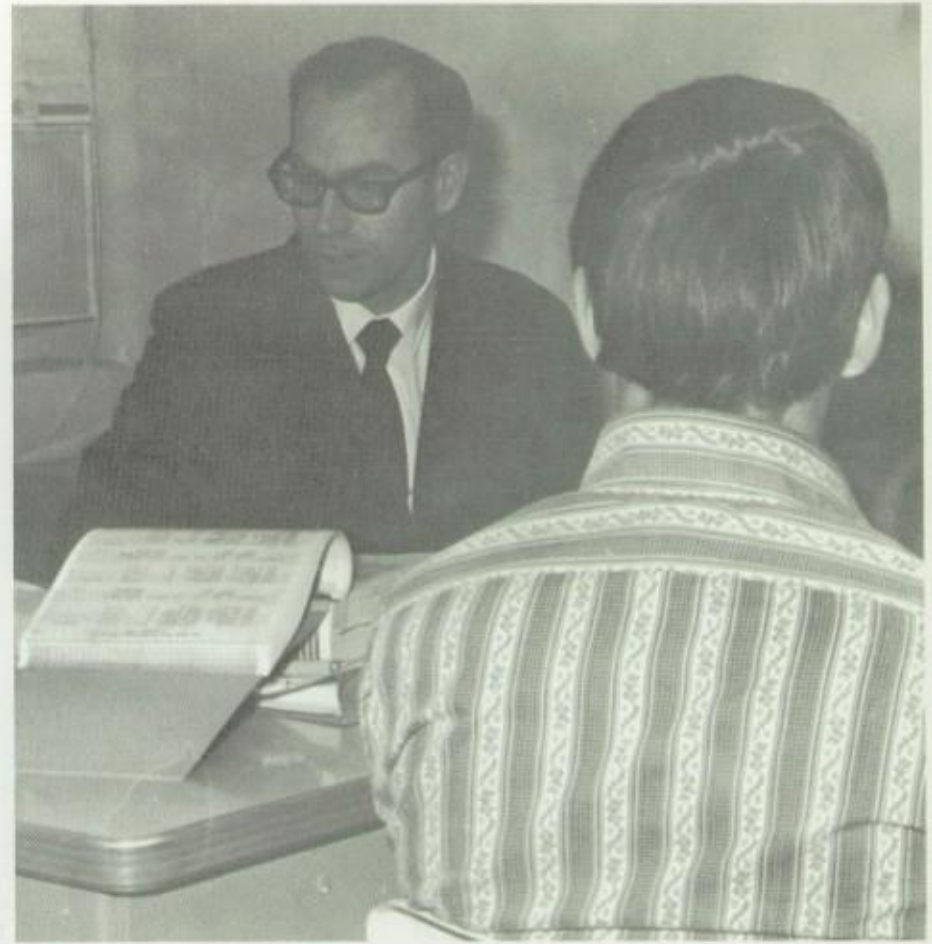

Administration

Mr. William Kinzer, Vice-Principal.

Mrs. Barbara Phillips

Mr. Paul Takach

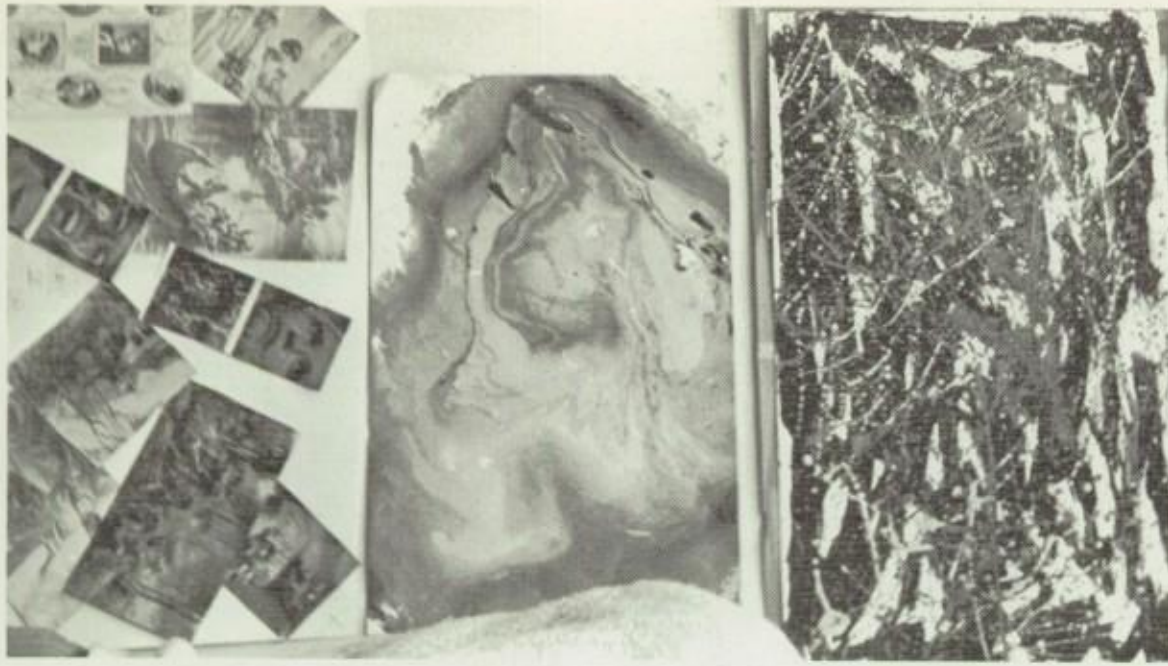

Guidance Counselors

Have you got a problem? Do you need your schedule changed? These are some of the questions faced everyday by the fearsome trio. The curriculum of each student is determined through individual conferences with the counselors: Mrs. Sue Moore, Mrs. Barbara Phillips, and Mr. Paul Takach.

College Night helps students to decide what college they will attend. Various speakers are brought into South to let the students have an opportunity to consider different careers. Individual problems are discussed in privacy with the counselors.

Mrs. Sue Moore

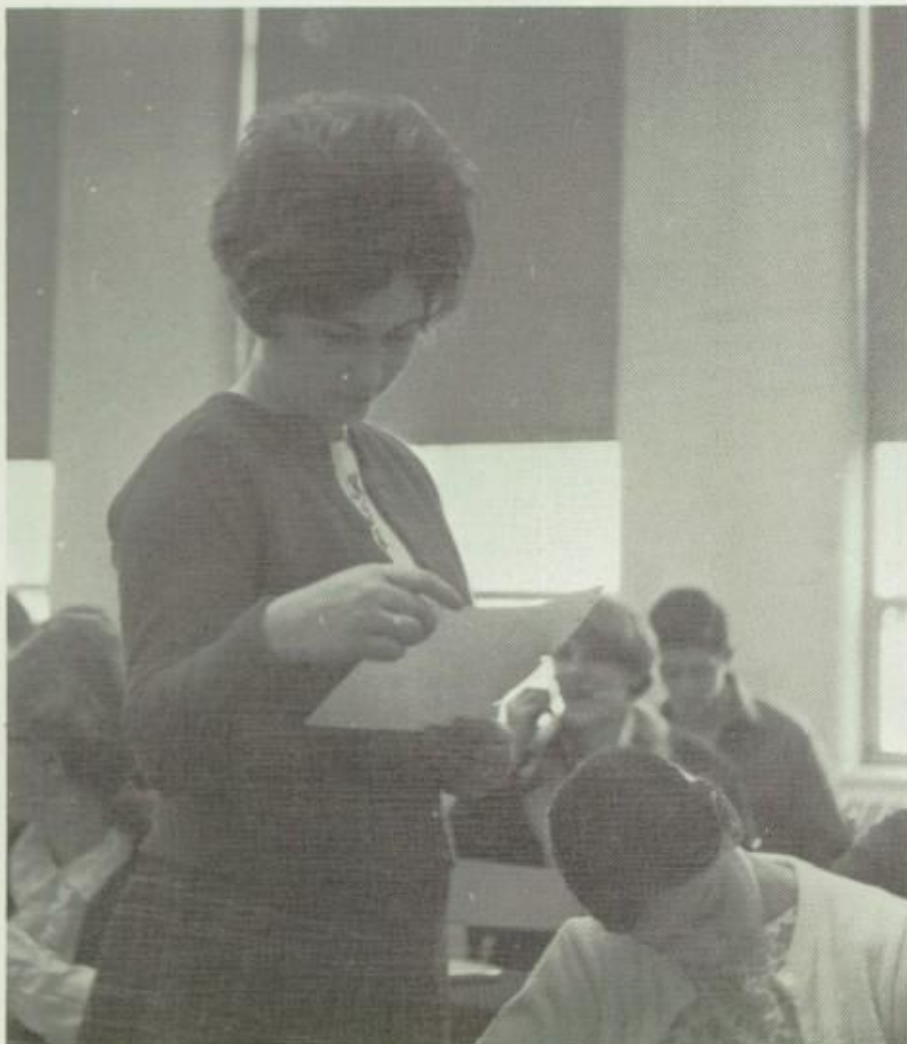

Communications

English, French, Spanish, journalism, speech, and drama are offered to help students in learning the arts of communication. To help in the process is a newly introduced English program. During each six weeks of the last semester students attended classes which they chose from a list of electives. The teacher and subject matter varied each six weeks.

Also active were the drama and journalism departments. The drama students participated in plays for the student body while the journalism staff published the "Clarion" and Patrian.

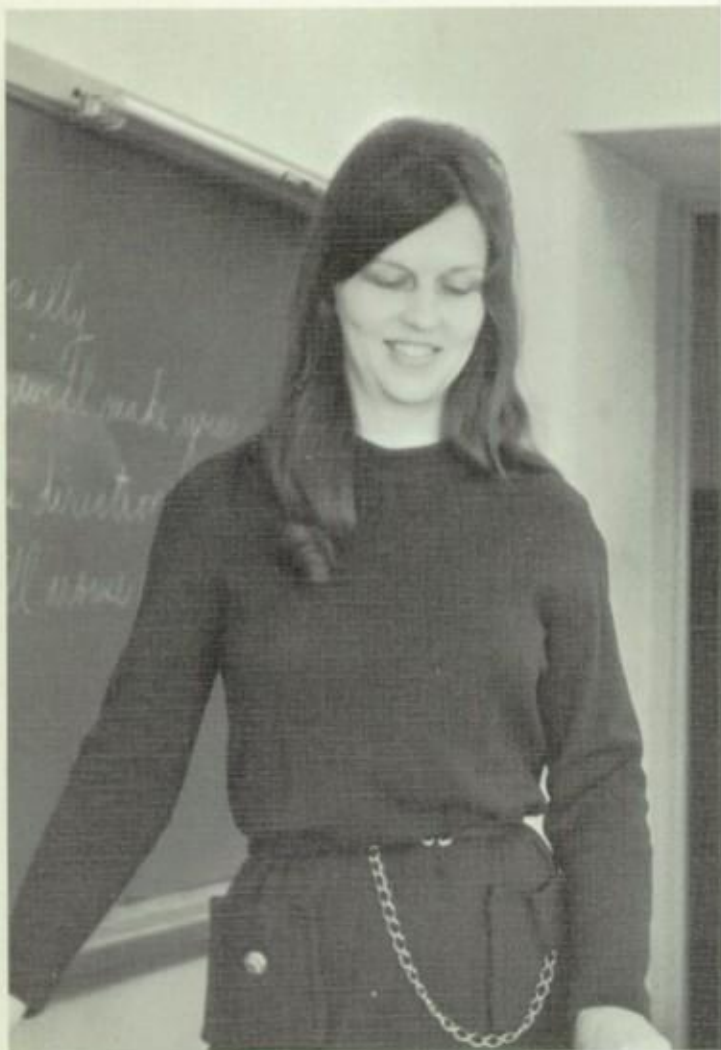

Mr. Carroll Bennett, English, Journalism

Mrs. Diana Johnson, English.

Mrs. Laura Hedrick, English.

Mrs. Donna Morgan, English.

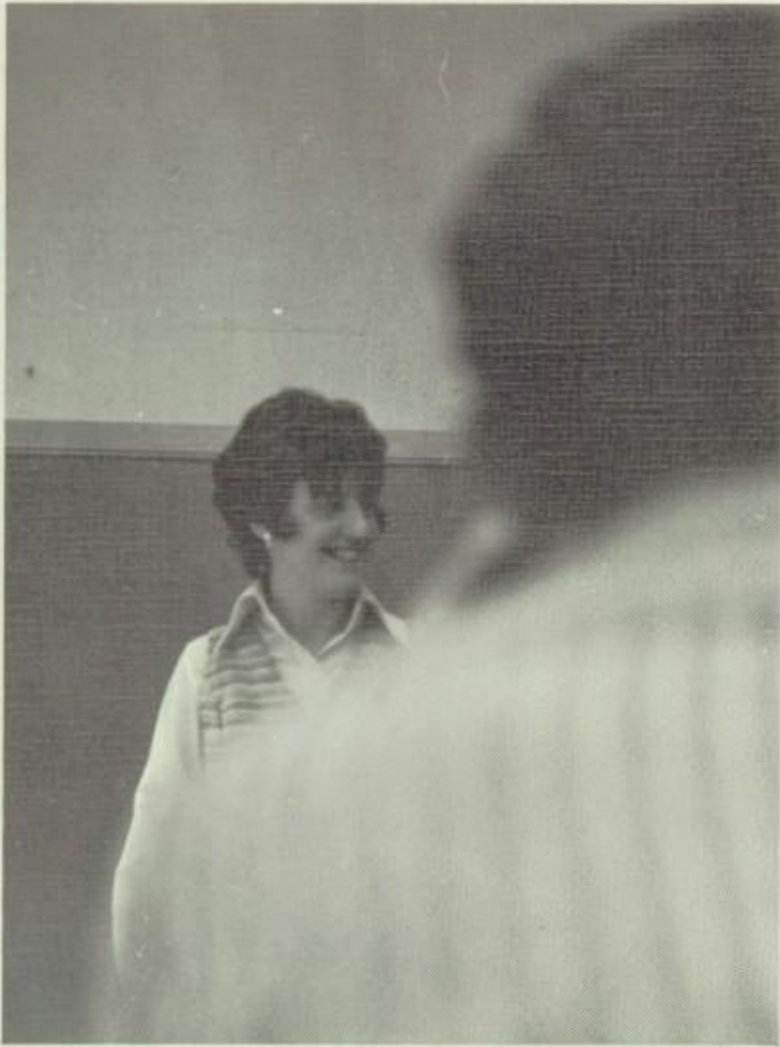

Mrs. Rebecca Daniel, English.

Mr. Charles Bradford, Spanish and English.

Mrs. Kathleen Pullman, Drama and English.

Miss Sandy Neubert, English.

Mr. Samuel Hoye, English.

Mrs. Eve Bradford, English and French.

Mrs. Beverly Roney, Concert Choir, Girls Chorale, Music Appreciation, and Orchestra.

Mrs. Janet Doherty, Humanities and English.

Fine Arts

Mr. Edward McKnown, Harmony and Band.

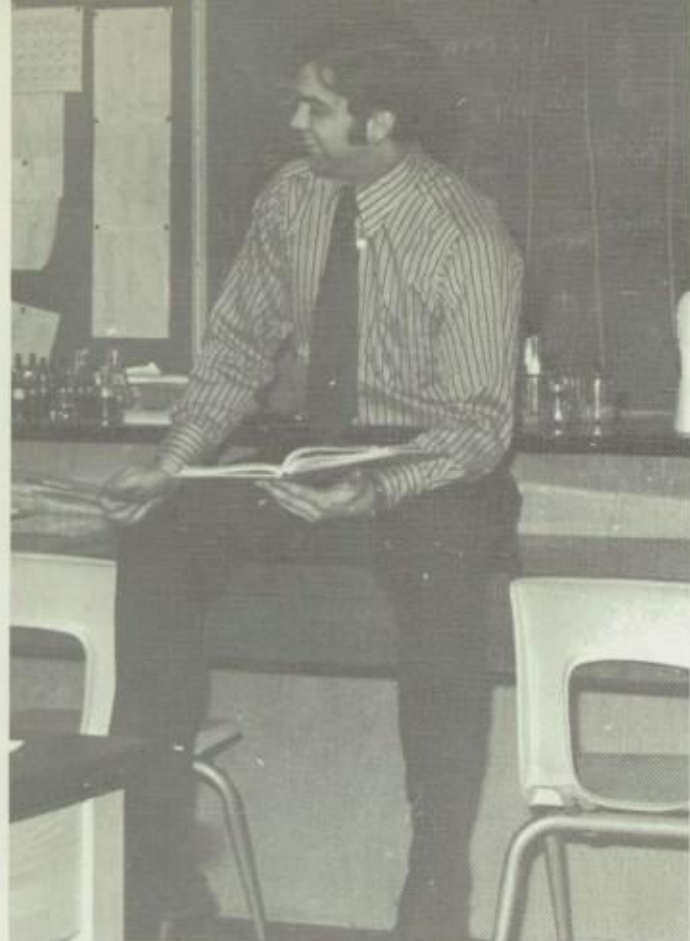

In this streamline world, a few of the finer items are appreciated and needed. To recognize, to enjoy, and to participate in cultural activities give students an outlet for creativity that is hidden in the everyday routine of the class room.

Mrs. Margaret Osborne, Art I, II, and III, Comercial Art I and II, and Art Crafts.

Science

The Science department has a special breed of students. With their minds they delve for the basic answers to life's puzzle. Dissections in Biology, experiments in Chemistry, class discussions in Botany, or Zoology projects all add to the students knowledge of life.

Mr. Jimmie Doddrell, Biology.

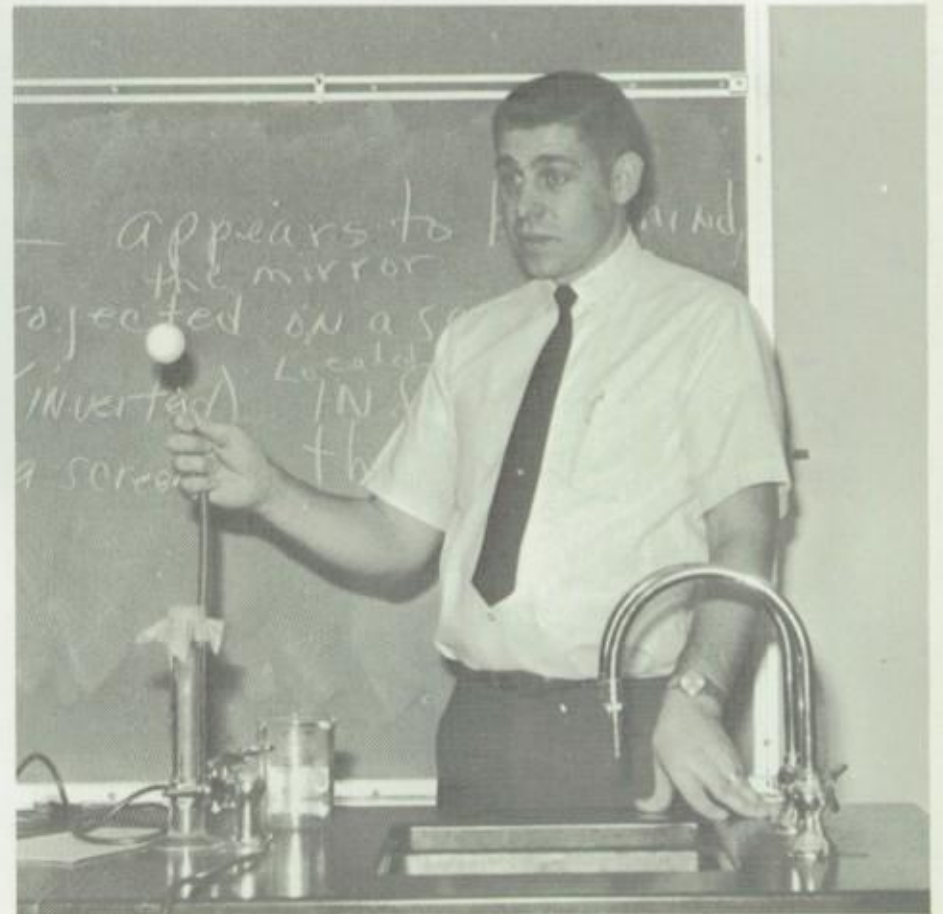

Mr. Robert Phipps, Biology, Botany, and Zoology.

Mr. Earl James, Chemistry.

Mr. James Elza, Physics and Physical Science.

Mr. Thomas Godwin, Biology.

Mathematics

With protractors, compasses, rulers and algebraic equations, South students in the Mathematics Department turn from their unpredictable world to the logical worlds of Calculus, Algebra-Trigonometry, Algebra, Computer Math, Geometry, and General Math.

Miss Jane Osburn, General Math, Computer Math, and Plan.

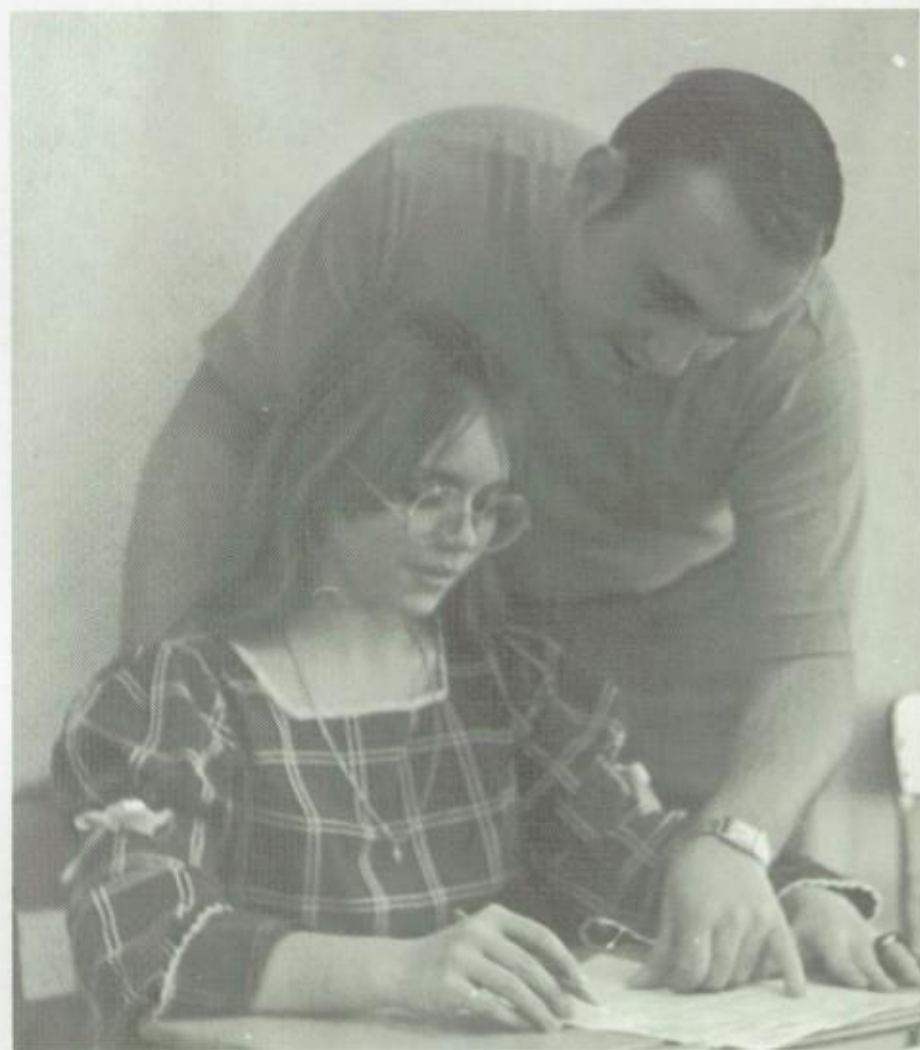

Mr. Robert Copeland, Geometry, Calculus, Algebra-Trigonometry.

Miss Karen Boley, General Math and Algebra I.

Mr. Walter Hensler, General Math, Geometry, and Physical Education.

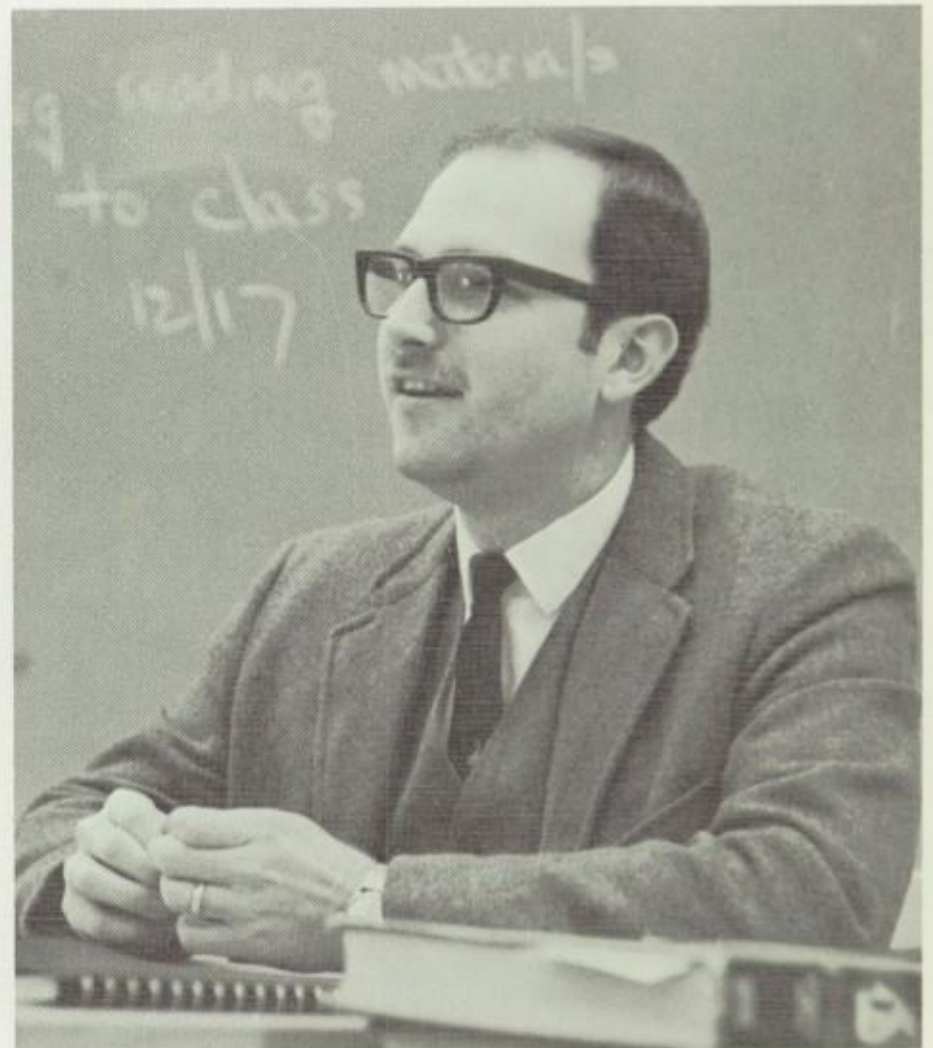

Miss Mary Jo Davis, World History.

Social Studies

Social Studies students embark on travels back in time to visit past civilizations, are members of the audience viewing Hannibal's elephant parade, or are actual visitors to places of interest in surrounding areas. Through World History, United States History, and American Problems, they can sit in a regular classroom and view the world's past, present, and future.

Miss Murlie Whaley, World History.

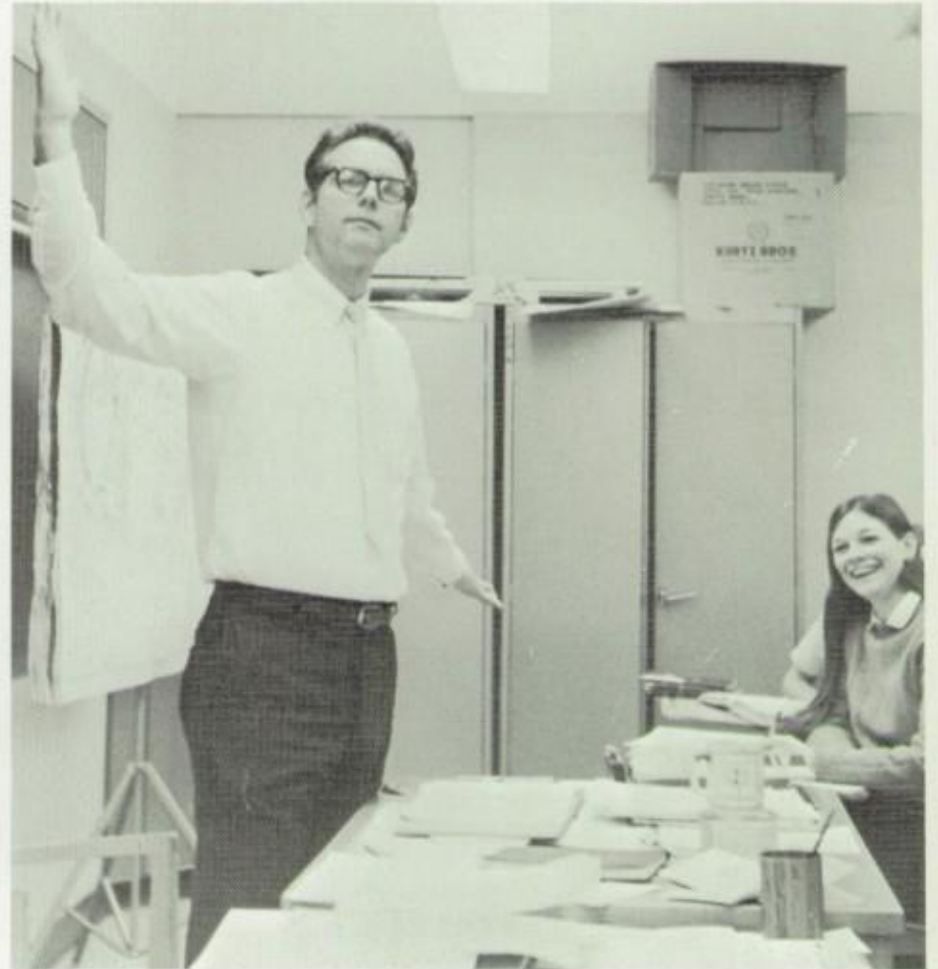

Mr. Robert Dailey, American Problems and World History.

Mrs. Marion Hynes, American Problems, Sociology, and Economics.

Mr. Stanley Bucklew, U.S. History.

Mr. Joseph Ancrile, World History and American Problems.

Mrs. Virginia Smith, U.S. History and American Problems.

Mr. Clem Jamison, U.S. History and American Problems.

Home Economics

Whether its a pinch of this, and a pinch of that, or a snag on the material, home economics faithfully produces young homemakers of the future.

Home economics I teaches girls the art of food preparation, consumer education, clothing, health, and child care. Those who advance to their second year study personal and family living.

In home decorating they learn various skills that they can apply in the more efficient running of their own homes. They learn to stretch their dollars with furniture refinishing, room design, and the creation of drapes, curtains, slip covers, and cushions.

Clothing occupations turns out professionals in dress repairing, altering, and tailoring.

Mrs. Juanita Berdine, Home Economics, Home Decorating, and Clothing Occupations.

Driver Education

Watch out for that car! Slow on the brakes! Turn the wheel! Learning how to operate a motor vehicle, traffic laws, and the parts of a car make up the drivers education department. This course helps to put better prepared drivers on the roads.

Mr. Dwain Wilcox, Drivers Education

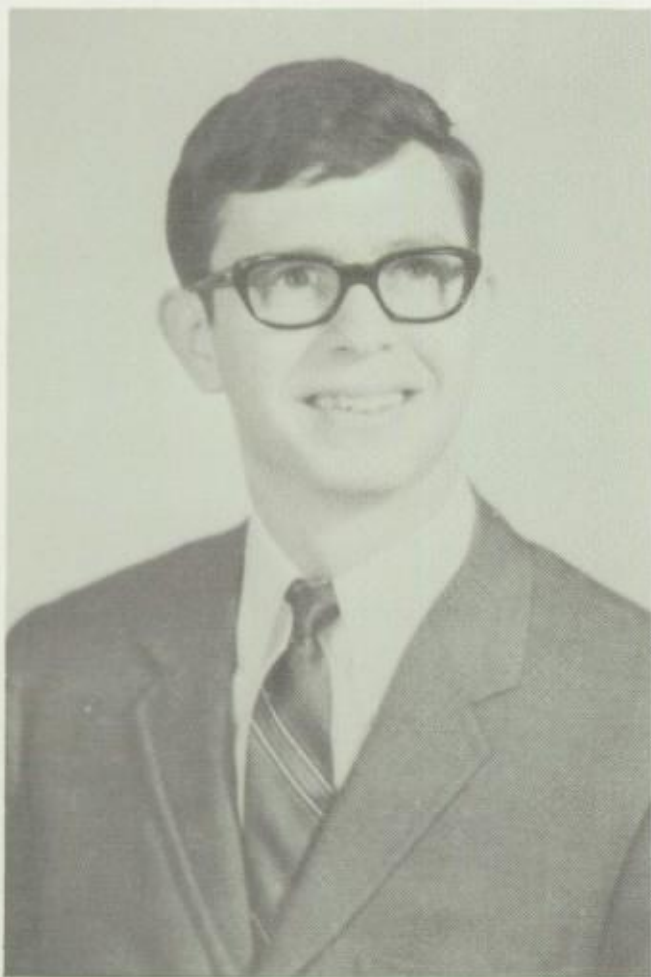

Coach Roderick Oldham, Drivers Education

Vocation Occupations

To start with your bare hands and a piece of wood or a blank blue-print sheet and apply a skill to produce a finished product is the long range goal of the Vocational department. The finished product, whether it be a re-wired motor or a model home is a tangible indication of the student's ability. An example of this is the trophy case in South's main hall that was constructed by the Vocational department.

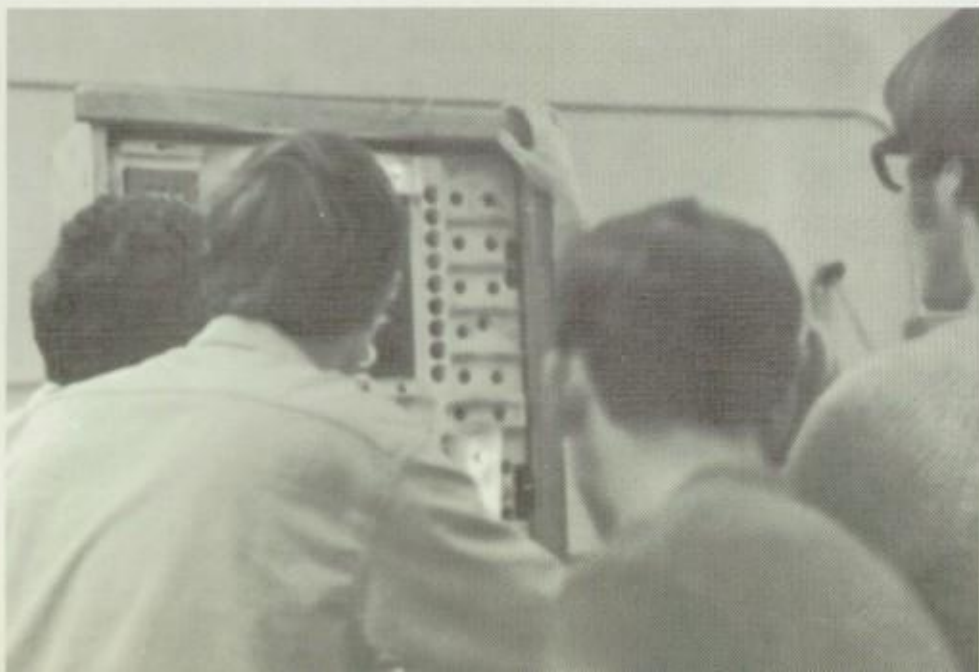

Mr. Ronald Pittman, Graphic Printing.

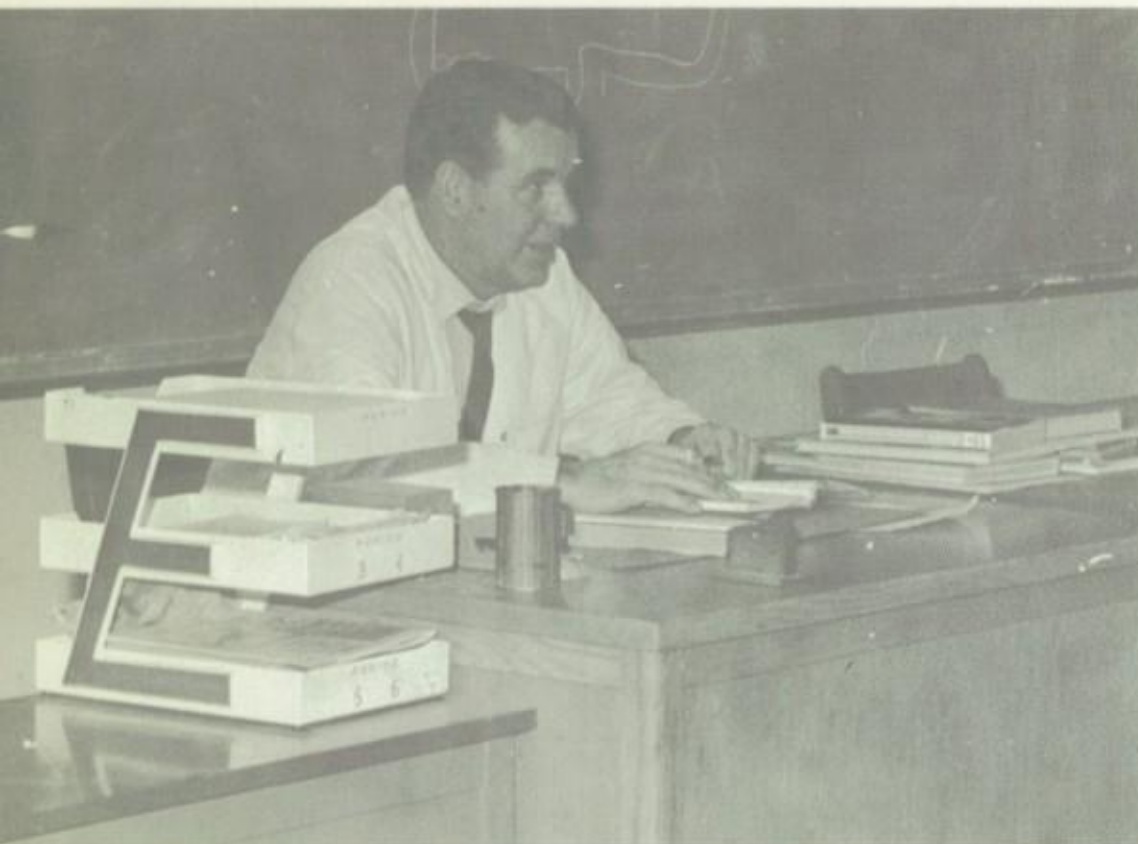

Mr. John Shaffer, Power Mechanics.

Mr. Kenneth Richmond, Construction Occupations.

Mr. William Brooks, Electrical Occupations.

Mr. Roy Leggett, Building Construction.

Mr. David Medley, Drafting and Mechanical Drawing.

Business Education

The continuous banging of typewriter keys and adding machines and the scratching of pencils on stenographer's pads is a good indication that you are walking through a business education class. Further journeys into the business world take you into mini-department stores conducted by store salesmanship classes, and a trip through a bookkeeping class is like a ringside seat in a battle where straight lines and columns must add up to a balanced attack.

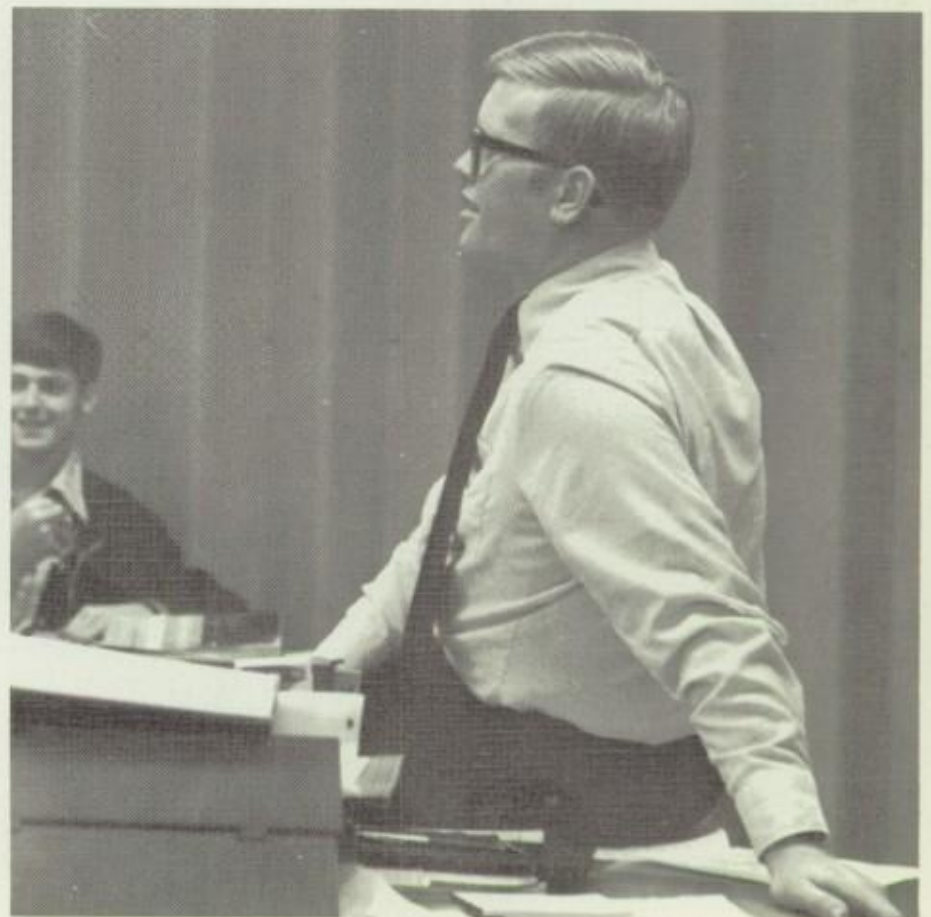

Mrs. Linda Sinnett, Secretarial Office Practice, Clerical Office Practice, Shorthand II, and Secretarial Co-op.

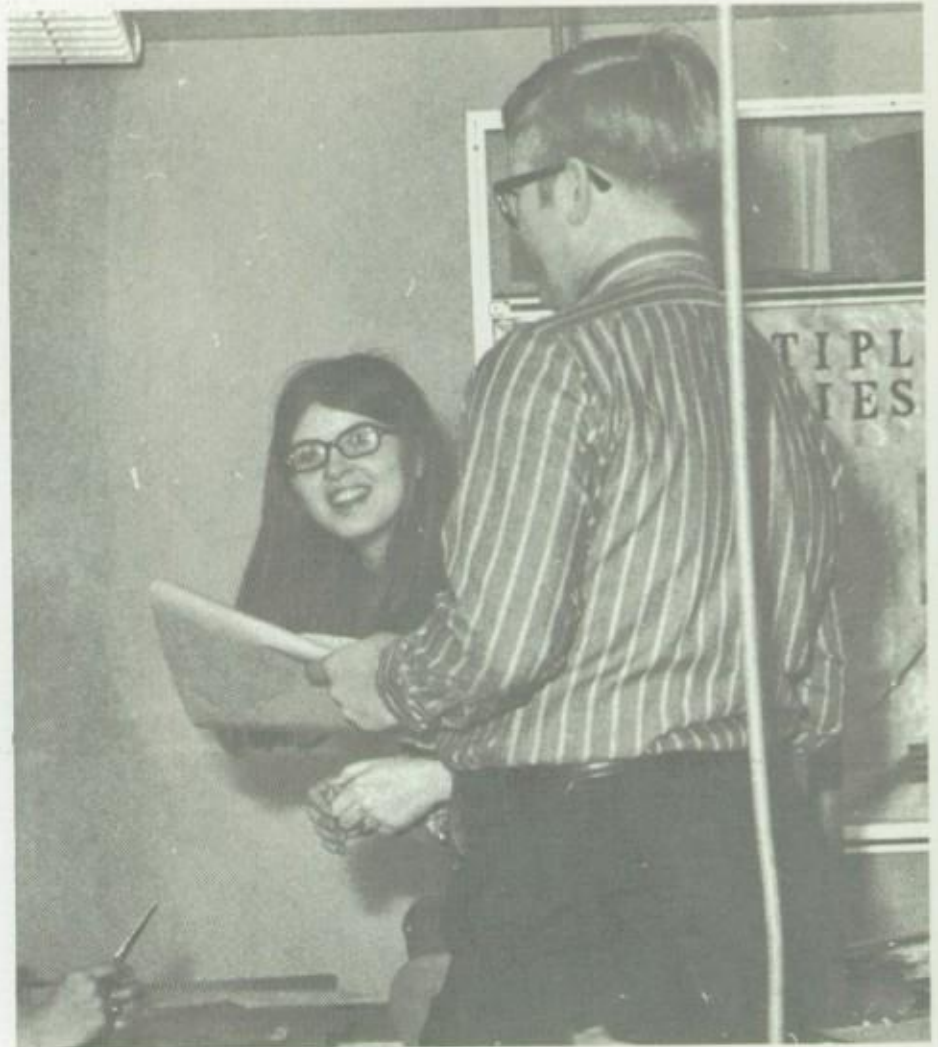

Mrs. JoAnn Hodges, Bookkeeping I, Shorthand I, Store Salesmanship, and Distributive Education Co-op.

Mr. Arthur Bolyard, Psychology and Bookkeeping.

Mrs. Virginia Daniell, Typing I and Personal Typing.

Coach Mike Hayden, Typing II and American Problems.

Miss Judith Roth, Library secretary.

Mrs. Miriam Jackson, Guidance Office.

Mrs. Mary Wyers, Office secretary.

Secretaries

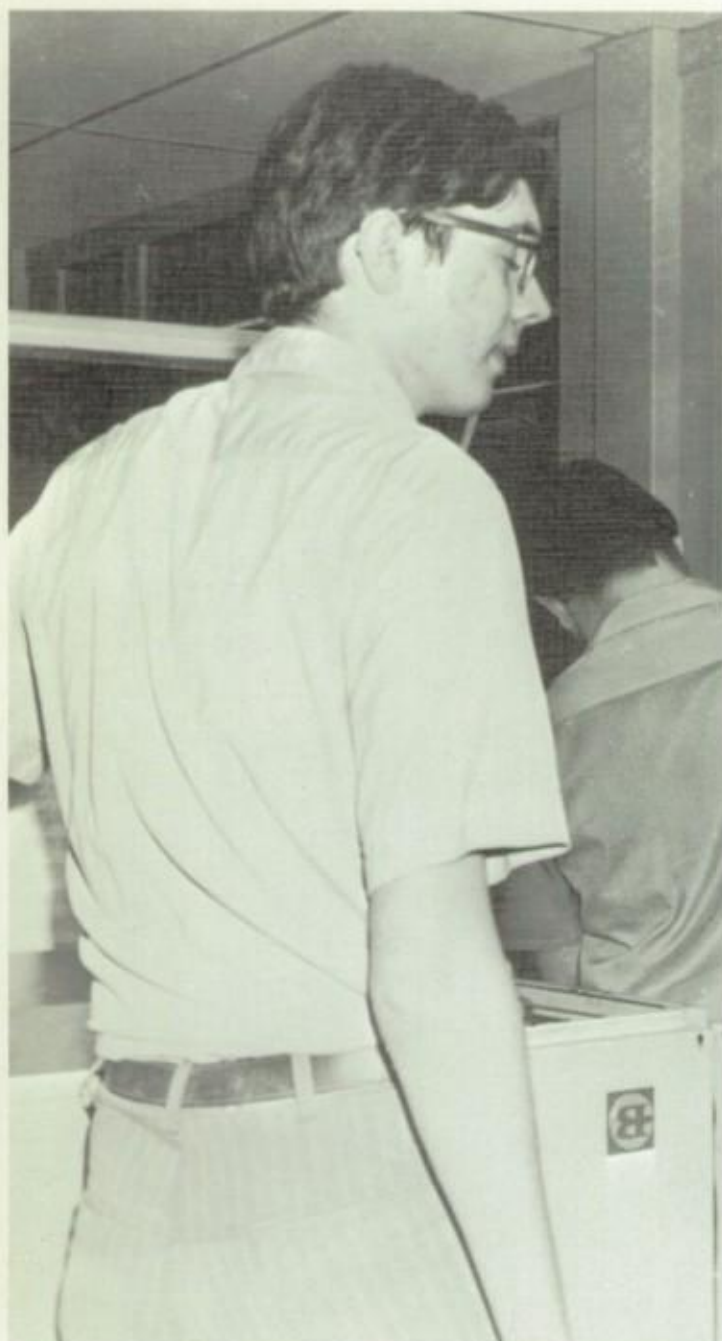

Keeping the money straight, arranging interviews, and answering the telephone are just a few of the jobs handled by South's secretarial quintet. Without them South would be one overly unbalanced book.

Mrs. Wilma Ruble,
Financial secretary.

Mrs. Rowena Michaels,
Teacher's aide.

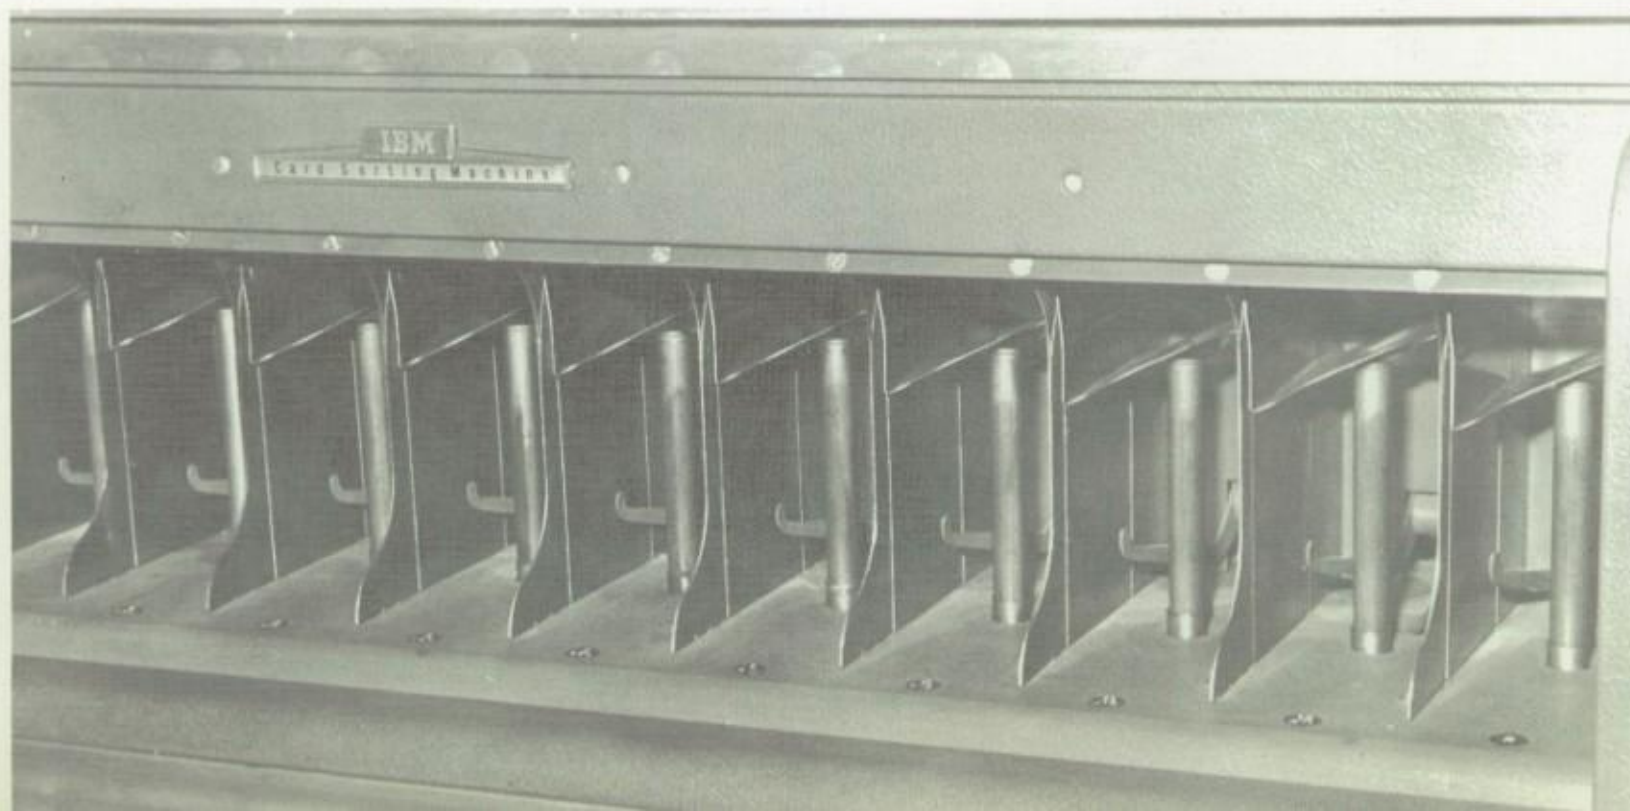

Mr. Frederick Thorpe, Data Processing.

Data Processing

If there is a mistake on your report card, it could be the fault of your teacher or the people in the computer center. The center is a training ground for those students planning to run machines and computers in the business world.

Cooks And Custodians

The cooks and custodians are responsible for cooking lunches and keeping the school grounds clean. Their conscientious work is appreciated by all of South's students.

Mrs. Eva Fox.

The cooks (l-r): Mrs. Blair, Mrs. Dellinger, Mrs. Treadway (head), Mrs. Sampson, and Mrs. Limbach.

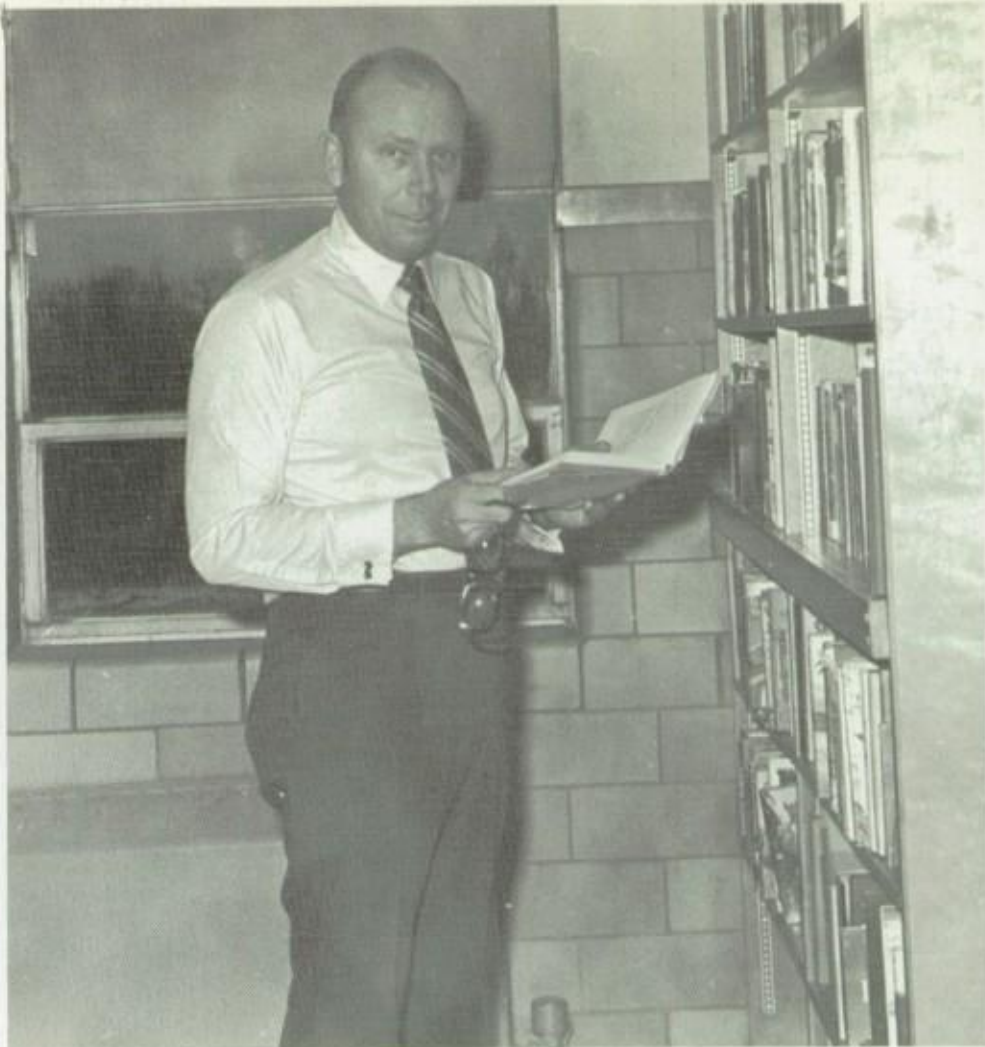

Mr. William Kubos and Mr. Wendall Kerr, head custodian.

Library

This year many new books, films, and tapes were added to the collection. If your basic needs in life included a quiet place and references for your term paper, then a visit to the library would have proved very beneficial.

Mr. Summers Furr, Librarian.

Food Service

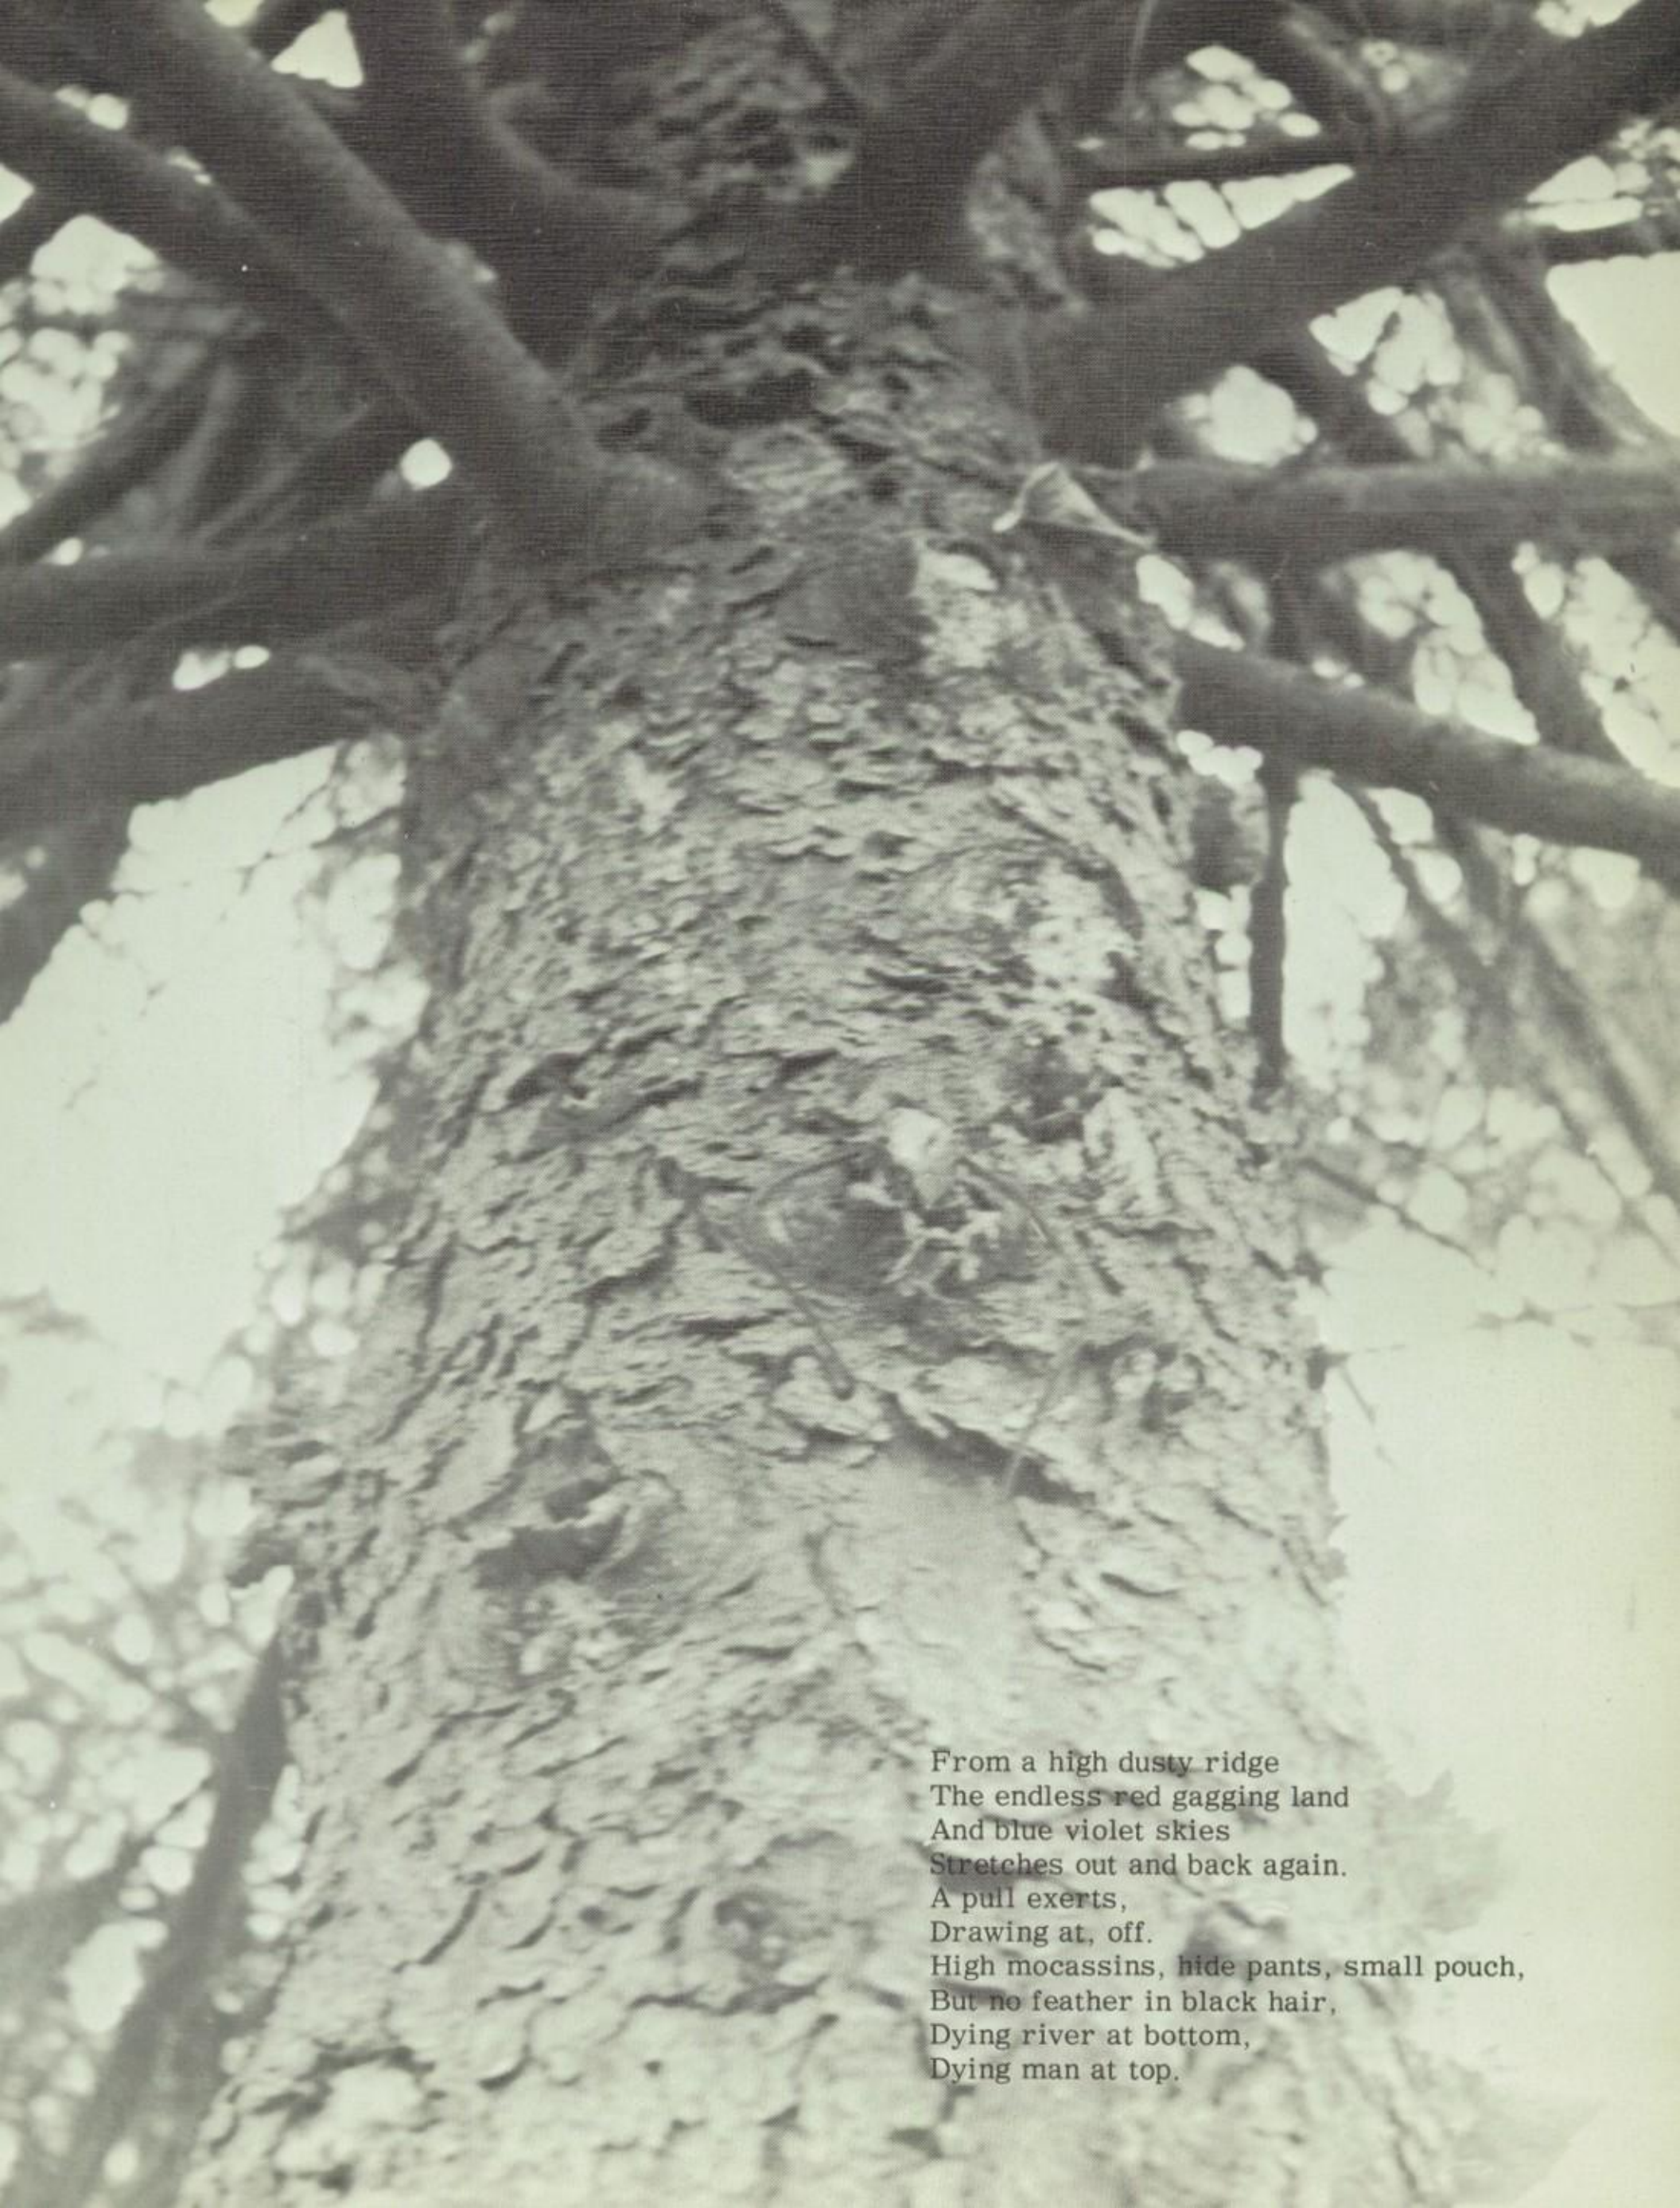

Many parties at South this year would have been incomplete without the help of the students and the director of the Food Lab. Students working here gain experience in fields such as food preparation. They also provide many South students with that daily hamburger and french fries for lunch.

Mrs. Mildred Atkinson.

Mrs. Janet Furr, Food Service Occupations.

From a high dusty ridge
The endless red gagging land
And blue violet skies
Stretches out and back again.
A pull exerts,
Drawing at, off.
High mocassins, hide pants, small pouch,
But no feather in black hair,
Dying river at bottom,
Dying man at top.

Turn around to the
"Where was I?"
Tap my fingers against my thigh
And wonder why I have changed so.
The things I said
Were more for the air
Than me,
Wires that I could cling to.
But many of them were true
I thought
The right answers.
And I would never conform.
But that was then.

With hard work and determination the Patriots had a successful 8-2 season scoring against the "North-Side" foes and placing three men on All-State Football teams. With many starters returning and the '71' Minipats coming up, South should be able to fill the new trophy case as it plays an action packed schedule for football 1971-1972.

The five men who make up the Coaching Staff have helped South to improve the athletic program over the year.

Coach Walt Hensler, Head Mini-Pat Basketball coach, boasted a most successful season. He also helped with football and track.

Coach (D.I.) Rod Oldham, who has a funny side as well as his D.I. personality, headed the running and field department, helped with football and co-headed the Wrestling Staff.

The man who stands 6' 1" and heads the roundballers is Coach Stan Bucklew, who has been at South for four years. Besides basketball he lends a hand in football and is the Head swinger for the Golf Team.

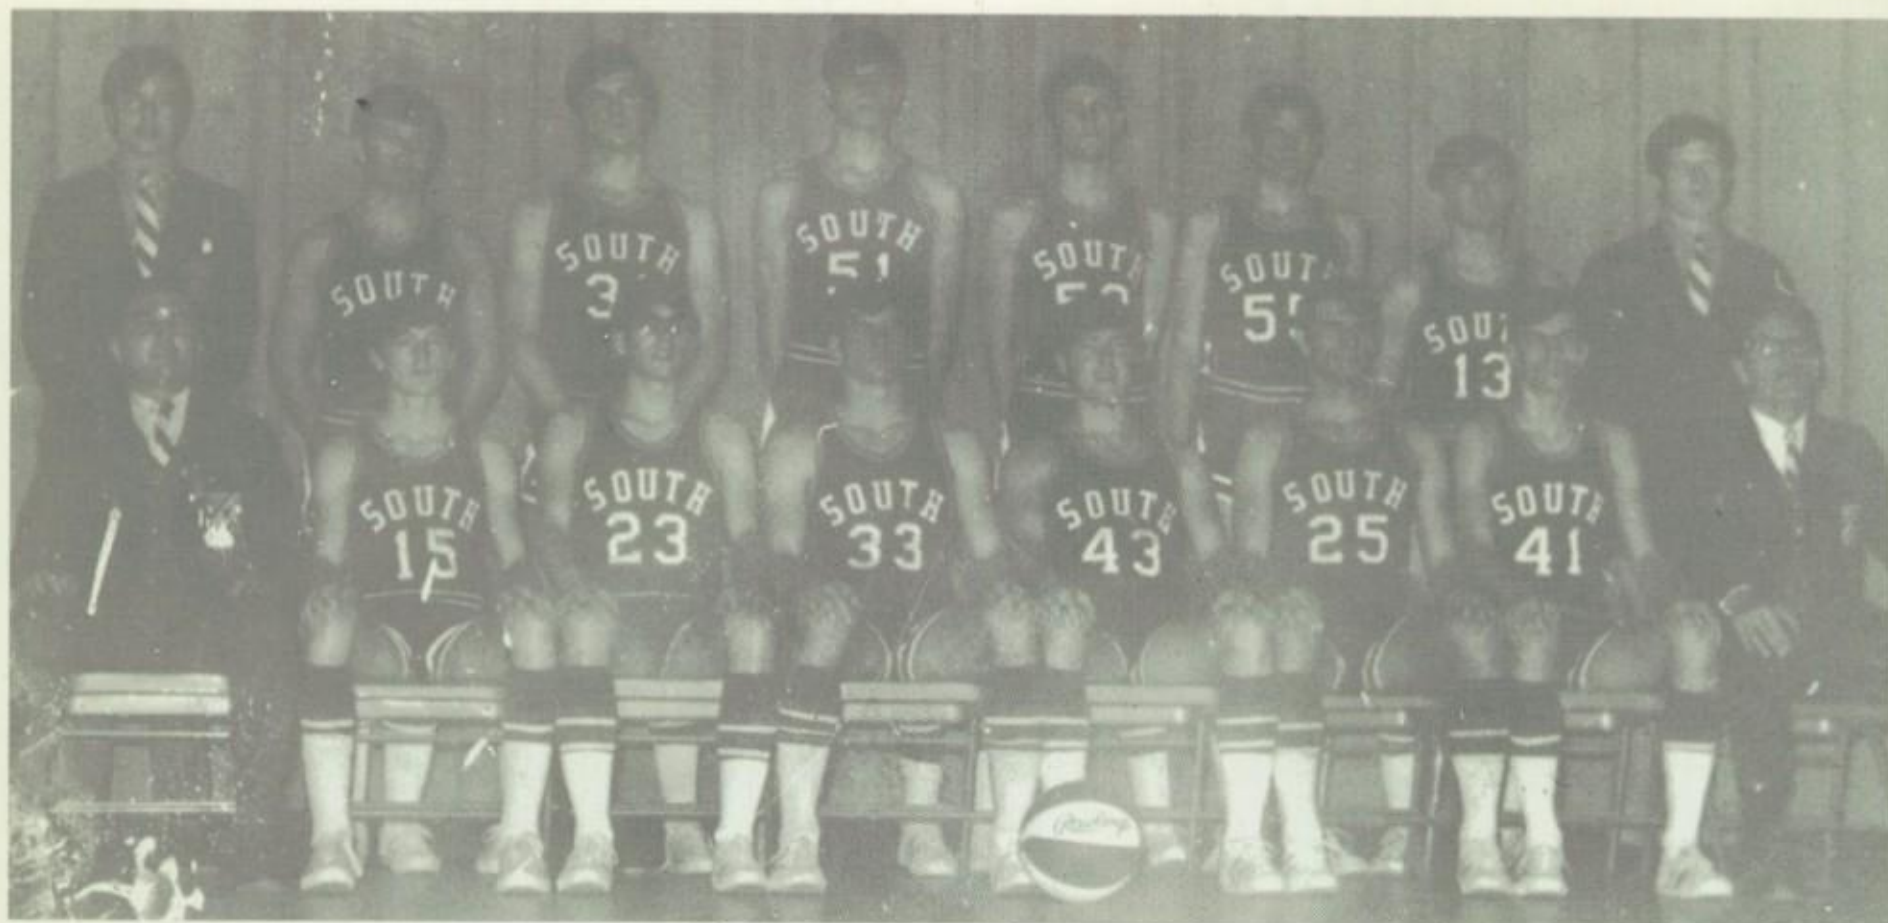

The Head Patriot Baseball man is Coach Dwain Wilcox. In his years at South he has taken South to the regionals and in 1970 to the state tournament. He also led the Patriots to a victorious season in '71. He also gives his advice in football and co-heads the grapplers.

The new man who has become very important at South is Head Football Coach Mike Hayden. Coach Hayden took the Patriots from at a disastrous 2--8 season to a impressive 8-2 season in one year! Coach Hayden also leads the Winter Conditioning program and Mini-Pat baseball.

My mind and my body
Have joined forces
To contemplate on
Creating a self-sufficient
Being, full of numbers
And birthplaces of Literary geniuses
With knowledge of
Their greatest works
Summed up with a Pulitzer Prize. After
My walkinshape takes
Time to contemplate
Its onlies, considering
All the introspection, and
The talk of wars and
The polluting sunsets,
I gather my features
Together and become
Me; infinitely me.

Walls are barriers
To close things in
And fence things out.

Walls are barriers
Between you and I
That keep us apart

We use walls
To conceal what we think
And shut people out.

Behind these walls
We hide from each other
As we do from ourselves.

Student

Council

A student goes from class to class during a school day, but he never stops to wonder who is responsible for the dances, AFS day, and various other activities.

There is a group consisting of a few officers and representatives from each class and homeroom that usually meets in the little theatre. With committees and discussions and sometimes heated debate, they have endowed the student body with the first foreign exchange student, a dress code decision, as well as Spirit Day.

It has been criticized as ineffective and spoken of as an elite, untouchable group. It continues, however, unheard of yet evident, when the student body joins in one complete day set aside for the raising of money for next year's foreign exchange student.

For the aspiring young journalist, this is one of the few rewards obtained for all "blood, sweat, and tears" powered into the Clarion and the Patrian. It is an honorary society, with members all over the nation. Perhaps its outstanding characteristic is the fact that it doesn't spend a lot of time in money-making enterprises. Its members just enjoy writing and taking picture, and being part of a group united for the purpose of producing a paper and a yearbook.

Clarion

It's 3:30 and the Clarion must go to the printers. Wild-eyed editors and fleet-footed reporters scurry to get pictures and stories to meet their deadline. Their minds seem geared to nothing else but the deadline.

When the paper finally gets to the printers, relief surges over the staff. Record players, radios, and homework appears until the next issue starts to take shape.

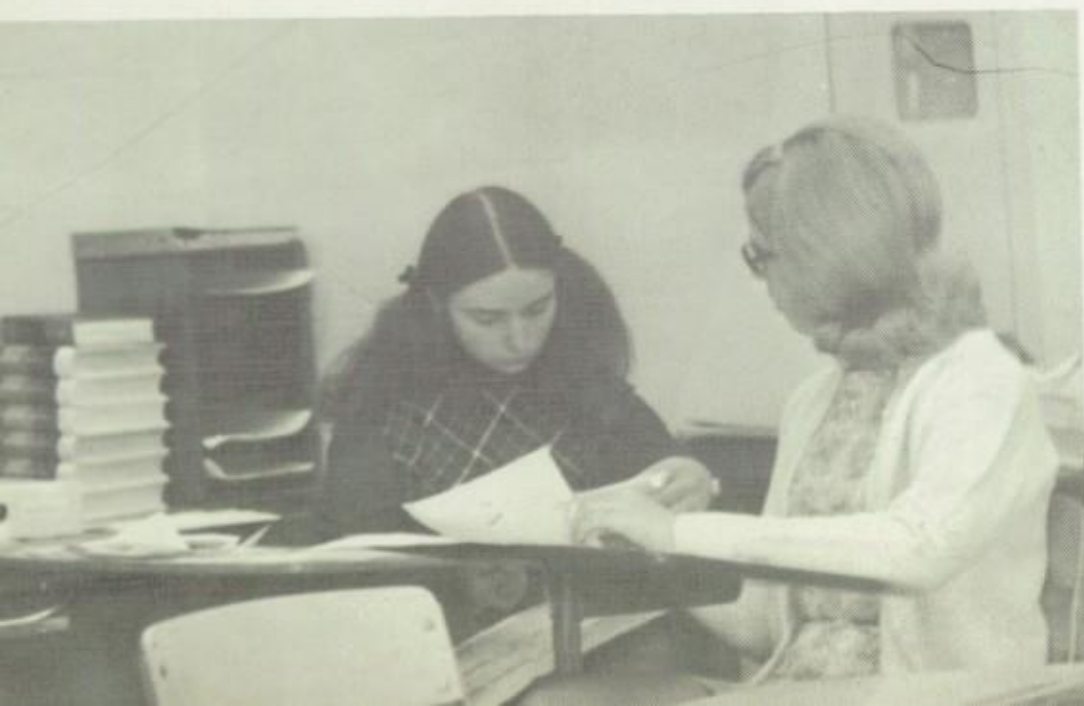

Patrian

A typewriter, a ruler and a layout sheet seem to be a meager beginning from which a yearbook grows. Pictures and copy eventually take shape into an accurate and complete record of the school's activities and the people who make them happen.

Proudly exhibiting majorettes garbed in tri-cornered hats and ruffled uniforms, the Patriot band moves down the field like a dark blue wave over a green carpet.

The band turns to face the home crowd of the football game and accompanies the fans in the Alma Mater and the fight song. Doing quick turns and drills, it salutes the visiting spectators with special musical selections and baton routines.

In numerous concerts throughout the year, the Patriot musicians prove that the uniform isn't the only symbol of the band. Mastering difficult orchestral pieces shows that the Patriot band truly deserves its superior rating at the Huntington Band Festival.

Thespians

Hard work, sweat, and a lot of headaches are behind any performance as Thespian Troupe 1540 discovered anew this year. George Orwell's "1984" was presented to the public in March, after many long weeks of rehearsals.

Many innovations were started during the year. Among them was a revised procedure for initiation and tryouts. Parkersburg South Thespians also participated in the Regional Drama Festival held at Parkersburg High School.

Co-Op

Co-operative education has become a big part of the secretarial studies of today.

One year of typing and shorthand is required to apply for this specialized field. This year Parkersburg South was proud to have approximately fifteen girls active in the program.

Attending school the first half of the day and working the latter part of the day is the usual working routine for these girls. Jobs range anywhere from public accountants to the board of education.

A cheerleader's life is lived from game to game, practice to practice, and hopefully, from victory to victory.

Rushing to get her outfit ironed in time for the game, ordering corsages for the visiting cheerleaders, selling pep badges, and arousing spirit at thuses are all parts of a cheerleader's season's chores.

Risking life and limb on the sidelines while standing on a bench to lead a cheer, or dodging runaway footballs and basketballs keep them in shape for high jumps and splits.

With precisioned timing and expert formations, the members of the cheering squad are certain to put in an appearance at every athletic function to lead the cheering spectators.

Sports

Girl's Athletics sometimes takes a back seat to male competition. Junior Senior Sports gives girls a method of participating in sports. Along with this comes an outlet for their energy and a way to make new friends while playing volleyball or basketball. The gym is many times filled with screaming girls involved in sports to break the monotony of an ordinary school day.

Competition sharpens abilities, whether it be on the athletic field or in battles of knowledge.

Prowness in fields of knowledge comes through dedicated practice. The TV Honor Society team could be seen diligently banging on buzzers after school in preparation for their television appearance. Practice payed off in their victory over Parkersburg Catholic, but they fell in a close contest with Athens.

The product of stiff athletic competition is increased physical ability. The Honor Society program has done much to increase the mental ability of students by providing a competitive outlet for their knowledge.

Tomorrow

Awards Day

The sun is my lover.
He caresses my body
on summer afternoons
And melts my senses
on cold winter days.
He streaks across poorly lit classrooms and entertains me with circuses of swirling dust.
He shines through changing patterns of clouds to comfort me when I walk alone, sadly, at lunch.
He slowly brightens my morning with softly glowing purples and reds.
And, abruptly he ends my day with a shocking galley of golds and orange.

wood pattern

direction and writhe just like wild things.
but still the board ends.
